

Jiang Zemin Resorts to Immoral Means to Crack Down Falun Gong

1. Female Practitioners Are Striped and Put into the Men's Jail Cells

In the Masanjia Prison of Shenyang, Liaoning province, the debased prison guards forcibly stripped the clothes from 18 female Dafa practitioners and put them into the Men's jail cells. The resulting abuse they suffered was so disgusting and terrifying. Many female practitioners told their visiting relatives that the place was too terrifying and evil for a person to imagine.

It was said that Luo Gan, a high-ranking official from the central Communist Party of China, was monitoring the process in that prison. To prevent leaking this information to the public, the prison has not released any Dafa practitioners yet.

2. Hunan Province Female Prison Uses Drugs to Control the Minds of Practitioners

Starting this March, Hunan Province Falun Gong practitioners who were sent to the prison or labor camps were tortured in a manner similar to the horrendous human experiments that were conducted on certain prisoners during World War II, to test the effectiveness of biochemical weapons.

It was a systematic and carefully planned "experiment" as part of the effort to suppress Falun Gong. Practitioners were injected with a new drug, which had the ability to temporarily 'hypnotize' people. Initially, under the influence of the drug, practitioners literally did everything that they were asked to do. It was fortunate that the power of the drug eventually wore off a week later (even with drug being administered daily). All the practitioners who had been "transformed" in this manner realized what had happened to them and are still steadfast Falun Gong practitioners. The majority of them have been conducting hunger strikes in protest.

Supposedly the Hunan province officials videotaped the statements that practitioners made while under the influence of the drug and are planning to broadcast them at the end of October. They are going to force practitioners from all over the province to watch the videotape, and use it as a threat against them. Recently similar reports have surfaced in many parts of China.

3. Police in Hefei Use Nerve-Damaging Drugs on Determined Falun Gong Practitioners

Since the personnel of the central government supervising Falun Gong arrived at Hefei City, Anhui Province. Falun Gong practitioners detained in the Hefei Female Prison began displaying abnormal behavior. According to internal sources from the police, they mixed nerve-damaging drugs into meals and served them to determined Falun Gong practitioners.

The police took those drugged practitioners out of the prison and showed them to Falun Gong practitioners outside.

4. Tuanhe Labor Camp in Beijing Deprives Falun Gong Practitioners of Sleep for More than 10 Days

The Tuanhe labor camp in Beijing tried to forcefully convert determined practitioners who refused to write guarantee letters, repentance letters, or other materials by not allowing them to sleep, for more than 10 days. Normally, a person would go crazy after 9 consecutive days without sleep. It is unbelievable that such an extremely brutal practice is still occurring in the 21st century.

5. Jiang Zemin Uses Immoral Means to Defame Falun Gong Overseas

According to reliable sources inside China, Jiang Zemin implemented a document on October 12th classifying Falun Gong as 'counter-revolutionary'; mean while, policy to "intensify the struggle [against Falun Gong] overseas" should be carried out to further suppress Falun Gong worldwide. The same day as the document was sent out, a Chinese woman pretending to be a Falun Gong practitioner did something extremely immoral in public in Tokyo. Police detained her and it was later discovered that she had been bribed by Chinese spies to defame Falun Gong. On October 22nd, an incident occurred in San Francisco's China town and gang of assailants hired by the Chinese government beat up practitioners. In order to eradicate thousands of millions of peaceful people as the enemies of the state, Jiang Zemin did not even hesitate to resort to immoral means outside China. He has humiliated the Chinese civilization and the crime he has committed is unforgivable.

6. Near One Thousand Practitioners Have Been Sent to Mental Hospitals

Since Jiang Zemin began the crackdown on Falun Gong, near one thousand practitioners have been tortured in mental hospitals. The following is the experience of a practitioner in Beijing:

I was often tied to the bed and force-fed food and drugs for several hours until I vomited the last drop of bile. Eventually, they changed to infusions. For a period of time, they force-fed drugs into my mouth every day and my teeth were bent in great pain. My lips were bruised. Sometimes male nurses would squeeze the sides of my chin and mouth so hard that flesh came out from between my teeth. The bed was wet all the time, my clothes were soaked with liquid drugs, and the force-feeding almost choked me to death. Later, they applied electroshock to me and my body became stiff from head to toe. After that, my knees went numb and I couldn't move around easily. Sometimes I almost couldn't even climb into the bed. I had about seven courses of electroshock. It lasted as long as a half an hour, and sometimes, after I had one in the evening, I had another one the next morning. The medicines evidently made my memory fail and I often had a headache. Sometimes I felt great nerve pain all over my limbs.
